Fatal Illness of General Jessup.

The telegraph reports that the veteran and distinguished General JESSUP, of the U. S. Army, was struck with paralysis, during Friday night, at Washington, and is not expected to survive the attack. The country will lose in him a loyal citizen and gallant soldier.

The Japanese.

The Japanese Embassy were cordially received and handsomely entertained at Baltimore on Friday, and at Philadelphia on Saturday. They proceed to New York to-day, and will probably spend this week in the great metropolis. The authorities and citizens of New York have made ample arrangements to give them a splendid reception.

Senator Sumner Threatened.

It would seem, from the telegraph reports, that Senator SUMNER is again threatened with violence, by some of the Southern fire-eaters, for giving utterance, in the United States Senate, to his convictions in regard to Slavery. We do not believe that these threats will be put in force; but if they are, Slavery, and not Mr. SUMNER, will be the chief sufferer. The North will not permit FREE SPEECH to be wantonly assailed in the Federal Capital; nor tolerate another appeal to brute force as an answer to undeniable facts and unpalatable arguments.

Carl Schurz.

> Carl Schurz, the champion of Republican principles in the West, is one of Europe's best gifts to America. As in the terrible convulsions of earth, the granite, the hardest and best formation is thrown to the apex of the very sky, so has it often happened that freedom is indebted to the revolutions of society for the granite character of her best expounders. Now that our hearts are being thrilled by these manly utterances that characterize his speech, it may not be amiss to familiarize ourselves with the leading features of a history so replete with interest, so full of promise.—Albany Evening Journal, June 7.

With this glowing preface the Journal introduces to its readers the sketch of Mr. SCHURZ' life, heretofore published in this and other Western papers. The same number of the Journal contains the speech delivered by Mr. SCHURZ at our Ratification meeting in Albany Hall, and mention is called to it in the following editorial paragraph:

> A GREAT SPEECH.—Let no one omit to read the speech we publish to-day. We use no unnecessary words when we entitle it "a great speech." Carl Schurz seems to be the rival of Kossuth in eloquence and patriotism, no less than in a marvellous acquaintance and comprehension of our institutions and philosophy of government. The speech should be the pioneer of Campaign Documents—the opening chapter of the great controversy.

DEMOCRATIC FEUD IN NEW YORK.—The New York Democratic politicians are getting by the ears in relation to the probable action of the forth-coming Baltimore Convention. Mr. JOHN CRAMER, a veteran "Hard," having written a letter in favor of DOUGLAS, the Hon. GIDEON J. TUCKER, late Democratic Secretary of State, replies to him in a sharp missive from which we extract the following:

> The secret of Mr. Cramer's preference for Douglas, I believe, lies in the fact that a son of his edits or writes for a Wisconsin Douglas paper. It is very natural that the old gentleman should agree with his son, and I do not complain of this. What I deny, and what you have not stated and will not dare to assert is, that any perceptible portion of that class of Democrats heretofore known as Hards or Nationals in this State, go with him and his friend G. B. Davis in this preference.
> Since you have invited this controversy, I will proceed far enough in it to add that it is my firm conviction, as a politician of some years experience in the politics of New York State, that Judge Douglas, if nominated at Baltimore, cannot in any event carry this State.
> I repeat, and am content to leave the prediction to be verified by results, that the State of New York will not, cannot and shall not cast her electoral vote for Stephen A. Douglas this blessed year 1860; you and my octogenarian friend Cramer to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding. Mr. Douglas will get just the same number of votes when our Presidential electors meet at Albany next December, as you and I and the other members of the Hard delegation received from the Illinois delegation at Cincinnati four years ago, and no more.

The Milwaukee public will be curious to learn what "DOUGLAS paper" a son of Mr. CRAMER "edits, or writes for." Surely this cannot be intended as "a favorable allusion" to our "family paper," the Wisconsin.

BLONDIN AT NIAGARA.—BLONDIN made his first transit at Niagara on Wednesday last. His rope is stretched across the gorge, immediately below the Suspension Bridge. All who have crossed the Bridge will remember how the rushing waters at that point, confined within a narrowing channel, boil and heave with fearful violence. It requires some nerve to look at the scene, unmoved, from the Bridge itself; but to view it from the slender thread on which BLONDIN crosses the awful chasm, might well appal the stoutest heart.

The Buffalo Commercial of Thursday thus describes the crossing:

"The time for starting from this side was fixed at four o'clock, but he did not start until five minutes before five. He cut very few "capers" on this occasion, stopping only two or three times, and once, when about midway over, lying at full length on his back, with as much apparent unconcern as if stretched securely on his bed. When near the opposite shore, he made a brief pause, standing perfectly still, while a daguerrean artist took his "pictur." The trip occupied about six minutes. On his arrival in Canada he was greeted by the people on that side with loud cheers. In a short time he started on his return and travelled back in a very orderly and sedate manner.

There were probably a thousand persons on the Bridge, and nearly that number in the different enclosures on this side; the various housetops in the vicinity were also crowded. In the enclosure on the Canadian side, the number was comparatively small. Altogether, we should imagine there were some twenty-five hundred to three thousand persons looking on from various points.

Blondin may truly be said to travel on his nerve and muscle, and a large supply of that same must be required to carry him 'over the water' safely, on his air line route.

It is understood that Mr. Blondin will repeat his crossings at intervals of about two weeks, and that, on the next occasion, something in the wonderful way will be introduced."

AN ACCIDENT occurred during the exhibition of DE HAVEN's Circus, in St. Paul, by the giving way of the seats. Two persons escaped with broken limbs—the rest with slight bruises.

THE CUT WORM is committing great ravages in Marquette County, and the Oxford Express says that whole corn fields have been destroyed by them.

DROWNED.—A boy six years old, son of Mr. ORRIN DEAN, of Menasha, fell off the draw-bridge, at that place, on Saturday, June 2d, and was drowned.

Personal.

A young man named THOMAS JACKA, of Mineral Point, was seriously injured by the accidental discharge of a gun recently, as he was getting over a fence. His recovery is considered doubtful.

AMONG the latest arrivals on this side the Atlantic is HORACE MAYHEW, the popular author and one of the principal contributors to Punch.

THE seventh annual meeting of the N. Y. State Editorial and Typographical Association will be held at Buffalo on the 14th inst. The address will be delivered by Samuel Williams, Esq., of the Morning Herald, Utica.

THE COMING PRINCE.—At Quebec, they talk of chartering forty or fifty river and lake steamers, and going down the St. Lawrence, en masse, to meet the Prince. The Parliament will assemble when he comes, present addresses and escort him to Montreal, where the Great Victoria Bridge is to be inaugurated by him.

IT IS NOW DECIDED that HEENAN and SAYERS, the two Champions, will come to this country together—yoked like a pair of lambs by interest rather than friendship—and entertain us with exhibitions of their manly art. New York will get up an ovation, of course.

DR. GEO. WILBER, of Mineral Point, has been appointed by Gov. Randall one of the Lunatic Asylum Trustees, in place of Levi Sterling.

WE UNDERSTAND, says the Argus, that Ezra H. Gleason, the defaulting and absconding Dane County Treasurer, has been heard of in Memphis.

HERE'S THE WAY our friend of the Madison Argus and Democrat advertises for a house:

WHO HAS A HOUSE TO RENT?—I want to rent a moderate sized house, located convenient to business and some place of public worship, with rooms to accommodate a family of five or six, that is free from rats, bedbugs and other nuisances, and the rent of which is somewhat less than the first cost of both house and lot.

Apply at this office without delay.

E. A. CALKINS.

THE Grant Co. Witness says that P. D. HENDERSHOT and J. LONG were digging a well on the lot of the former, in Platteville, and by accident came upon a large body of mineral. In drifting and "proving it up," by Saturday evening they had taken from the earth about 12,000 pounds. Some of the chunks weighed as much as 150 pounds each.

ESCAPE AND RE-CAPTURE OF PRISONERS.—On Friday morning two prisoners by the name of JAMES WALTON and JOHN WILLIAMS, made their escape from the State Prison at Waupun. They were both arrested subsequently about eight miles from Waupun.

From Washington.

Special Despatch to the New York Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 6, 1860.

THE TARIFF.

The following is the Tariff programme, as arranged by the Democratic managers of the Senate, with a view to party effect: The Finance Committee, to-morrow morning, will report the section of Mr. Morrill's bill, which provides for a loan to cover the outstanding Treasury notes due on the 30th inst., striking out all that refers to the Tariff. A Tariff bill has been prepared by Mr. Bigler, which he intends to move as an amendment. His scheme is almost exclusively directed to Pennsylvania, with a full knowledge that it can never pass Congress, and will not be supported by the Democratic side in either House. It is an open but valueless bribe, concocted like the deception of 1844, and designed to operate on the Presidential election.

This is the most fatal blow which could be struck at Mr. Morrill's bill, coming, as it does, from a professional friend. If Mr. Bigler had co-operated a good faith, and enlisted any of the Democratic support which he promised, that bill would have had a fair chance. Since he has joined its worst enemies, there is no prospect of its passage.

THE RICHMOND CONVENTION.

No interest whatever is manifested here in the proceedings of the Richmond Convention, next Monday. It will probably adjourn over to Baltimore.

THE HARPER'S FERRY INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Mason is expected to submit his report of the Harper's Ferry Committee at the close of this or the beginning of next week. If the minority think it requires any answer, their views will also be presented.—No evidence has yet been produced in any way sustaining the original charges.

DOUGLAS AT BALTIMORE.

The outside pressure for Mr. Douglas at Baltimore will be intense. Arrangements have been made to bring cannon from Cleveland, and all the accessories of popular demonstration will be called into requisition.—His friends intend to take the town by storm.

Special Despatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.

WASHINGTON, June 7, 1860.

THE SOUTH ENDORSING THE CHARLESTON SECEDERS.

The news from Georgia and Alabama to-day, in regard to the action of their State Conventions, shows that the South will sustain the seceders, but that a fatal breach has occurred in the Democratic party which is past medicament. The regular Conventions of those States have, by very large majorities, endorsed the majority or Southern Platform, and sent delegates to Baltimore via Richmond, instructed to insist upon the extreme demands of the South, or make a second secession. An outside party, admirers of Douglas, have met at the same time and places, and sent delegates to Baltimore in the interest in the Little Giant. An "irrepressible conflict" must ensue at Baltimore, which it is safe to say will end in the total disruption of the party. In the Georgia Convention Douglas was beaten by about 4 to 1.

All the Democrats here who possess any calculating powers whatever, now concede the election of Lincoln. They say the only hope of their party is to endorse the nominations of Bell and Everett. What a fall is here, my countrymen!

THE WAUPACCA SPIRIT is jubilant over the commencement of the end. Hear it:

"Next Monday, the 11th day of June, the commencement upon the grade of this end of the Oshkosh and Wausau Road, near the City Mills, is to occur. Arrangements have been made by the ladies to be present with baskets of substantial aid, to furnish dinner and to encourage the laborers to their task. Every lady who can is urged to be on hand, with provisions to furnish the table, and with words of sympathy and encouragement! From all neighboring towns, we hope to see large delegations. Let there be an excitement created on that occasion which shall last through all the long term of labor necessary to complete the work. Every person who feels willing to work upon this great improvement, and take stock in payment is requested to be at work on Monday. Be not backward in doing yourselves and the public a lasting benefit."

WE OMITTED to correct a wrong statement made in the "Milwaukee Wisconsin," a short time since. We have good navigation on the Chippewa river all the season. There has been no time this spring that the water has been so low, but a good load could be taken; and at the present time the largest Mississippi steamer could come to Eau Claire. The "Wisconsin" only allowed us 17 inches of water.—Eau Claire Free Press.

CHILD POISONED.—A bright little boy aged five years, a son of Mr. Farlough, living near the depot, died on Thursday, from the effects of eating large quantities of the root of an herb known as crows foot; the poison did its work in a few hours. Children should not be made acquainted with plants of so powerful a nature, which, at this season, are unusually active.—Juneau Co. Argus.

Destructive Fire at Williamsburgh.

NEW YORK, June 9—3 P. M.

The fireworks manufactory of Hatfield & Son, in Williamsburgh, exploded yesterday afternoon, killing Charles Hatfield and Jacob Gresk, and badly injuring three other workmen. The works occupied eight small brick buildings, and the explosion extended from building to building, until all but two—fire-proof—were destroyed. Loss $27,000.

Another Triumph for Free Speech—C. M. Clay at Richmond, Ky.

Cassius M. Clay won another victory for free speech, and struck a good blow in behalf of Republicanism at Richmond, Ky., the county seat of Madison county, on the 4th inst. This was the day of the opening of the County Court, and a large number of people were of course present from the surrounding country.

Mr. Clay had publicly announced through both the papers issued at Richmond, that he intended to speak on this occasion, and the subject was much canvassed in the streets. The more violent portion of the Revolutionary Committee, we learn, were for silencing him.

At one o'clock, P. M., the large Court House was packed to its utmost capacity.—Mr. Clay took up the Republican platform and read it, making no allusion to the mob, but going on to vindicate the principles laid down in that platform. Finding him prudent enough to avoid any mention of the mob one of the most violent of them declared that Mr. Clay should be "shot through the head." Mr. C. said he claimed the same equal rights as were allowed other parties, and that he would "STAND OR FALL THERE!" The clamor against him continued, but the great mass cried, "go on."

Mr. Clay then said: "Gentlemen, I see what you are after. If nothing but a fight will do you, we are ready for you. Now try it. Shall I speak, citizens, or not?" "Yes, yes, go on," was the response from the great majority of the crowd. A dozen voices cried out "no, no." To which Mr. C. replied—"Then go out," [great applause,] "if you don't want to hear!" And they went out, completely foiled in their attempts at assassination.

Mr. Clay made a strong speech, which told with great effect upon his large audience.—Many "Union" men, we are told, declared for Lincoln that day. Our Republican friends there are in good spirits. They say the cause is progressing, and that the day is not far distant when Kentucky will not only tolerate free speech, but will also range herself on the right side.—Cin. Gazette, June 8.

The Loss of the Steamer Arctic.

Correspondence of the Detroit Free Press.

ONTONAGON, June 1, 1860.

Your readers have doubtless heard before this of the loss of the Steamer "Arctic" on the 29th of May, by striking on the most northerly of the Huron Islands, on Lake Superior, during the dense fog. We left Marquette at 2 A. M., on Tuesday, the 29th, with sixty-five passengers, and a crew all told of about thirty-five—in all one hundred. At 6 o'clock in the morning the boat hauled up on her course for Portage Entry, and a few moments after, while running under check, struck the island about eight rods from the point. The captain and first officer were both on deck, but the dense fog which prevailed rendered it impossible to see more than a hundred yards ahead, and it was too late to attempt to stop. It became at once evident that the boat could not be saved, and the boats were at once lowered and the passengers taken ashore. The baggage, most of the furniture, and provisions followed; the cattle were thrown over and swam to the rocks; a camp built, and every thing done to save the freight,—but a heavy northeast gale springing up, accompanied with a tremendous sea, rendered it impossible. At noon the boat was abandoned, she having sunk to the main deck, with the sea running so the boat could not be approached with safety. She sunk entirely at 4 P. M., and one hour later the cabins and upper-works were gone, leaving nothing in sight but part of one wheel and the walking-beam. These followed at sundown.

The sea was now running mountains high, and was dashing fearfully over the rocks. All the freight which had been thrown upon the rocks near where the vessel struck was washed off, as were also all the cattle excepting two. There were provisions, bedding and tents in abundance on the island, but the latter were but illy calculated to keep out the rain, and the passengers all were thoroughly soaked through before morning. On Wednesday it rained all day, and not until a short time before dark it cleared away. The second night was very comfortably passed under the circumstances, and the passengers awoke on Thursday morning to find a clear, bright day and the weather perfectly calm. A boat was sent to Portage Entry at sunrise with the news, but before the Portage Lake boats arrived, the steamer "Fountain City" came in sight and was signaled, and a most welcome sight it was. The passengers were taken on board, leaving the captain and crew at the island to pick up the scattered freight. All of the crew and most of the passengers worked with a will. The officers, from the captain to the cook, behaved like men, and nothing that could be done for the safety and comfort of the passengers under such circumstances was left undone.

One little incident deserves to be mentioned. A calf that was left on board managed by some means, when the upper works were washed off, to get upon the hurricane deck, which, being of strong canvass, did not break up. The chap stuck to his frail boat bravely, with the sea running in enormous waves, and was taken off the wreck by a party in the yawl. The little brute was at once taken in charge and treated as a passenger, and was probably made as near a lion as any of the bovine species ever will be. When we went off to the Fountain City the calf was one of the first passengers, and the enthusiastic Teuton who claimed the little fellow exclaimed, as he was taken on board, "I no dakes dirty, vorty, or veefty dollar for dis ere oxen."

Yours, MARQUETTE

Admission of Kansas Postponed.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, June 5.

Mr. Green made his demonstration against Kansas in the Senate to-day, objecting principally to the boundaries, and urging the technical plea that the terms of the English bill had not been complied with.

Mr. Collamer answered him fully and successfully, exposing the weakness of these objections and assigning many conclusive reasons why the State should be admitted, and this cause of embarrassment relieved.

But a majority exhibited their foregone purpose to kill off the admission, and a motion to postpone this bill to take up an appropriation, which was regarded as a test vote, prevailed by six majority. Every one of the 26 Republicans was present and voted in the negative, seconded by Messrs. Pugh and Latham.

Thirty-three Democrats recorded themselves for the postponement, Mr. Bigler among the number, who excused himself on the pretext of a thin Senate, when sixty votes were cast, being probably the largest aggregate vote of the session. Thus have the Administration and the Democracy pursued Kansas with unrelenting hostility to the bitter end.

A YOUNG GIRL, about seventeen years of age, was found wandering about the streets of Philadelphia, on Friday, weeping bitterly. Upon being questioned by an officer, she stated that she was homeless and without friends. Her story was as follows: She was seventeen years of age and a native of Salem, N. J. Two years ago her father purchased a plantation near New Orleans, and, with his family moved there. The girl went to school a few miles from home, and a hired man was in the habit of carrying her backward and forward in a wagon. During these rides he succeeded in winning her affections, and in persuading her to elope with him. She stole $100 belonging to her father, and the couple came to Philadelphia, where the villain effected her ruin, and after obtaining all her money, and pledging nearly all her clothing, he deserted her. Having no means left, the poor creature was turned into the streets by the proprietor of the house where she had been staying. The girl refused to make an affidavit against the scoundrel who had betrayed her. She was sent to the House of Refuge until her family could be communicated with.

A FEMALE DUEL WITH BOWIE KNIVES.—The Paris correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune relates the following in his letter:

"Madrid gives us a good deal of scandal this week. The Countess de Cumbre Hermosa tried to cut her husband's throat with a razor while he was asleep, and did wound him severely; his crime was suspecting her of jealousy, and satisfying himself the suspicions were not unfounded. Then there has been a terrible duel with bowie knives, between two nuns at Las Salesas Monastery, one of the most aristocratic retreats in Spain, for no persons except widows or daughters of nobles are admitted to its cloisters. Both combattants were very severely wounded.

FORWARD SEASON.—Judge Clark informs us that the season this year is five days earlier than last, and very much earlier than any for the four years preceding, as the following table, showing when the Siberian Crab was in full blow, will show:

1856 ....May 19 | 1859 ....May 19
1857 .... " 30 | 1860 .... " 5

The Greatest Trot Ever Made.

From the New York Tribune.

The first of two matches made between Flora Temple and Geo. M. Patchen came off yesterday.

At an early hour every avenue to the course was alive with a throng of carriages and pedestrians, and every train of cars overflowing with passengers. By 3 o'clock full fifteen thousand people were on the course, eager for the contest.

For some days before Monday last, the betting had been in favor of Flora, at 100 to 80; but on that day it became known that she had cut the heel of her near fore foot, and some fears were entertained that she might prove lame, and the odds on her fell off, and by Tuesday the betting had become even. This so rallied the confidence of the backers of Patchen, that by Tuesday evening the odds changed to his favor, and 100 to 90 was laid on him. By Wednesday morning the odds had increased to 100 to 80, and up to the hour of starting he had the call in the betting at that rate, and even as low as 100 to 75.

At 3 o'clock, amid the greatest interest and impatience of the crowd, the horses showed on the track. Flora came with both fore feet bandaged up, and seemed short in her step; otherwise she looked in tip-top order, her eye bright, her coat blooming, her spirits elastic. Should her feet give no trouble, she showed promise of a trot equal to any ever made by her. Patchen also showed the best of condition—the only thing noticeable being a little too much eagerness and excitability. When stripped, he looked fit to force out of Flora a greater race than she had ever made, or to beat her. The backers of each were assured as they took their preliminary trots. It was noted that the step of Flora had lost none of its elasticity, and that, with all the show of bandages, her feet were all right. The betting on time had been made for so low a figure as 2 m. 23 sec.; but after the horses had been seen, and in view of the fine day and the fine track, bets were made on 2 m. 22 sec. in a few instances, and were numerous that that time would be made if she beat him. Wonderful as this time is, its backers were justified, for two heats were done in less than 2 m. 22 sec.

FIRST HEAT.—Patchen drew the pole, and had the inside. After seven attempts, the horses got away on the eighth, with an even go off, but with a slight lead by Patchen.—This he retained round the turn to the quarter pole. As they swept off from the turn, Flora moved up, caught Patchen, and outfooting him, soon showed in front a length. A shout rent the air, bursting from the lungs of her thousands of partisans and backers. Down the straight stretch they sped, Patchen seeming to wake up to the task before him. By the time they reached the middle of the stretch he was going at a wonderful rate, and, in a few yards further on, caught her. A rally set in, and he headed. On they went with the same rattling pace, and he soon drew in front, and at the half mile pole showed a length clear.

The half mile had been done in one minute and ten seconds, and now the race seemed Patchen's—it was dollars to dimes. The half mile had never been done by Flora before in less time, and who could say the race was not Patchen's? After passing the half mile pole, Talman seemed to ease Patchen away, and at the centre of the turn Flora moved up, and the two went even head and head to the home straight stretch. The struggle then began, but Patchen kept the lead, and maintained it some distance, when McMann eased off the mare, and both kept their positions until within twenty rods of home, where Flora was called on, and dashed into one of her bursts of speed, for which she is so famous, and which ever give her the contest. With a rush, she headed the horse in six or eight rods; in a few strides, she drew out a length in front.

Talman seemed caught by surprise, and was headed ere he recovered himself. A blow roused Patchen, and he burst away with a gait that astonished every one, but in vain; though he caught the mare—though every stride brought him nearer to her head, it was in vain; she passed the score a winner by a head, in the wonderful time of two minutes and twenty one seconds. A wild shout of admiration rent the air as Flora was proclaimed the winner of the best heat ever trotted. If she had added an additional laurel to her chaplet, so grand already, the horse had lost no honor—he had forced her to her noblest feat, and was beaten by a throatlatch only.

The heat over, the horses soon cooled off well and seemed as fresh as before the start. The betting now changed to 160 to 60, and even 50 on Flora. This did not seem justified by the heat, which had been a close and doubtful one, and was only won by the least distance at which judges can decide.

SECOND HEAT.—At length the bell sounded, and the rivals came up for the second heat. After three false starts, they got off. No trotter ever had such speed at the go-off as Flora, and with the inner track here, she showed in front at once, and maintained and increased her lead to the quarter pole, and when they swung into straight work was two lengths in advance. Here Tallmah called on Patchen, and with a terrific pace he flew after the little mare. Along the stretch it was a flight indeed, but speedy as she is, he drew to her, and at the middle he caught her.

As he placed his head on her quarter, the pace became killing, and carried him off his feet. A shout went forth, "He's up—he's up" Away flew the nonpareil, and five or six lengths were opened between her and the horse before he was brought back to his pace and got to work. The heat seemed all over—for could anything catch Flora with but little more than half a mile to cover, and she so far in front? With ready tact, Talman not only gathered his horse to his pace and set him to his work, but forced him to an unsurpassed burst of speed. While this was passing, McMann eased Flora off, and had her in hand seeming to wait for Patchen.

The slackened pace of the one, and the increased pace of the other, soon brought Patchen up to within two lengths of her at the half-mile pole. And now began a brush. At the head of the turn he caught, with his head covering her quarter; they swept round the turn, and entered the home stretch, she having a head of three-fourths of a length.—A fourth of a mile is yet to be done; every inch is to be contested, and it was contested. A more beautiful trot was never seen; inch by inch he drew on her, inch by inch he gained, but all in vain. She came home the winner of the heat by a neck in two minutes twenty-four seconds. The time had fallen off three seconds from the last heat, but this was owing to the bad break made by Patchen in the second quarter. From the half-mile pole they went to the stand in one minute and eight seconds!—the best half mile ever trotted!

After this heat the mare seemed distressed, and did not cool off well. The horse, though not apparently so much distressed, likewise did not cool well. Betting now went begging any fair rate, and the best odds that Flora's backers could get were five to one, and but little at that.

THIRD HEAT—Flora had the track, and led in going round the turn; in going along the back stretch Patchen lapped Flora and passed her at the half mile pole; he increased the distance in going round the turn, and was fully two lengths ahead at one time, but it was speedily reduced on entering upon the home stretch, and a great struggle took place in coming down to the gate, where Flora had the advantage, and maintained it, as, amid the usual noisy yells and other demonstrations of approbation for Flora, Patchen broke up as he passed the distance post, and Flora won the heat and the race in 2 minutes 21 1-2 seconds.

The scene at this time was most exciting, and cheer upon cheer was sent up for Flora.

The same horses will trot at the Union Course on Tuesday, June 12, 2 mile heats, best two in three, for $1,000.

ANOTHER BAD ACCIDENT.—The spirit of mischief seems to have taken possession of the little three-year-olds in this city. Already this week, we have had the painful duty of announcing the death of two; and now we have to record another accident which may prove fatal. On Wednesday, a little boy of Mr. Wm. Phelps, aged three years, living on the Plank Road, near the Frontier House, ran out into the street and commenced whipping a horse standing near the gate; in retaliation for which, he received a kick over one of his eyes, that must have sent him eight or ten feet. At last accounts the child was alive and hopes were entertained that he might recover, but it is extremely doubtful.—Racine Journal.

RAILROAD SURVEY.—A party of engineers left town this afternoon to prosecute the survey on the contemplated line of railroad from Winona to La Crosse. The permanent location of the line will be made shortly, and the right of way obtained.—Winona Rep. June 8.

Republican Meeting.

The Republicans of the Second Ward are requested to meet at KORRMAN's saloon, on Third street, next Monday, the 11th of June, at half past seven o'clock p. m. A full attendance is expected, as important business will be before the meeting.

THE WARD COMMITTEE.

Celebration of the "Fourth."

A meeting of citizens was held on Saturday evening in the parlor of the Newhall House. L. H. KELLOGG, Esq., was appointed Chairman, and W. HENRY HOLLAND, Secretary. On motion of T. H. EVISTON, a committee was appointed to solicit funds and prepare a programme. The motion was adopted, and the following named gentlemen appointed on the committee:

S. S. DAGGETT, CALEB WALL,
J. A. HELFENSTEIN, S. H. MARTIN,
DAN. SCHULTZ, H. L PAGE,
O. E BRITT, J. A. PHELPS.

The committee was empowered to add to the numbers and to fill vacancies.

The chairman, Mr. KELLOGG, said that he was authorized to state that certain citizens were having prepared a stand of silk colors, to cost from $75 to $100, which were to be rowed for, and awarded at the conclusion of the trial—which trial was open to all competition from at home or abroad.

After some other unimportant business the meeting adjourned.

The thing being now fairly started, it is to be hoped that our citizens will not be backward in lending the necessary aid to consummate the arrangements.

PIC-NIC EXCURSION.—The several Lodges of Good Templars in this city, are engaged in perfecting arrangements for a pleasure excursion and pic-nic, to come off near the close of this month, probably on the 27th. The intention is to charter a train of cars, or a steamboat, (the latter, however, is thought impracticable, from the impossibility of accommodating all who would desire to join in the excursion on a steamboat) and proceed to some grove within the range of 20 or 30 miles, and have a pic-nic.

Well, that's sensible. Nobody can enjoy "things" better than the Good Templars, if they try.

A person cannot do a more sensible thing than "go on" a pic-nic. Pic-nics are the height of common sense—especially in June; and more especially when the cold water ladies are along.

MILWAUKEE BUSINESS MEN.—The Weekly McGregor Press pays our business men and the Chicago Railroad, the following handsome compliment:

"While in Milwaukee last week we looked through several of the immense dry goods and other commercial houses of that City, and saw enough to convince us that goods can be bought in Milwaukee as cheap or cheaper than they can in Chicago, and no North Iowa Merchant who buys goods that side of New York, should fail to visit Milwaukee in his route. In most cases we are sure they will not have need of going farther. Aside from the advantages and attractions presented by Milwaukee, a ride over the excellent and admirably conducted Milwaukee & Chicago Railroad, which runs for nearly a hundred miles along the beautiful shores of Lake Michigan, will more than repay the lover of the beautiful in nature, for the expenses of his whole journey. Now darting through beautiful groves, now emerging from them into full view of the broad Lake, dotted with steamers and sails, now gliding amid green fields and orchards and past the neatest towns and villages, the smoky cloud which ever envelopes Chicago, appears in the east, before a single feeling of weariness comes over the delighted traveller. Travellers from North Iowa to Chicago or the East pass over the Milwaukee & Chicago road."

MR. MEYERS' CURIOSITIES.—Mr. J. J. MYERS, who has recently returned from the eastern coast of Africa with a collection of curiosities and samples of the produce of the country, opened his collection to the public on Saturday, opposite the Post Office, on Wisconsin St. The "museum" is worth seeing, and Mr. MYERS, who is an intelligent man, with a good fund of information concerning Africa, will readily impart any information in his power. The admittance is only ten cents.

MILWAUKEE AND MINNESOTA RAILROAD.—We understand that the Hon. HANS CROCKER, of this city, has been appointed, by Judge MILLER, of the U. S. Court, Receiver for the whole of the Milwaukee & Minnesota Railroad, and will take possession in a day or two. The appointment is one eminently "fit to be made." In the hands of Col. CROCKER the interests of the company and of its creditors will be secure.

TAKING THE CENSUS.—Mr. DENNIS CULLIGAN, who takes the U. S. census for the First and Seventh Wards, is doing the work faithfully and well. If all the Deputy Marshals in the State discharge their duties as intelligently as Mr. CULLIGAN does his, the census of 1860, so far as Wisconsin is concerned, will be a reliable one.

OYSTERS.—RAYMOND is still receiving fresh Baltimore oysters every Saturday afternoon. They are as nice and fresh as those received in Fall or Winter. Depots corner of Reed and Oregon streets, and at H. C. LIVINGSTON's, corner of Spring and West Water streets.

FOR DETROIT, CLEVELAND AND BUFFALO.—The splendid upper-cabin screw steamer Galena, Capt. STEELE, leaves the Milwaukee & Mississippi R. R. dock to-day at 4 o'clock P. M., for the above and intermediate ports. For passage apply at the office, foot of East Water street. GRIFFIN & FLINT, Agents.

MELMS serves up Book Bier to-day at his saloon in Ludington's block. The well known qualities of MELMS beverage warrants us in saying, his popular establishment will be beseiged. Lunch will be served as usual.

Caleb is asked to Explain.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I noticed in your paper this morning several new advertisements of CALEB's. I always look for them as soon as the editorials are devoured, considering them a little touch above "Mrs. Partington's" effusions. Surely, he would "take the knife" if he were to enter into a prize competition with that distinguished lady.—Now, I have always been inclined to think that CALEB intended to be a man strictly invariable in his observance of truth, however great a proportion of India rubber his conscience might actually contain, but I am strongly inclined to the opinion that CALEB misstates, or is laboring under some slight aberration of mind or morals, when he informs the public that he has "had left with him ten acres of land all enclosed and under cultivation, with a block house." I'd like to have CALEB explain it. I wish to know how it was brought to town, and where he managed to store it. I would also like to have him explain, if he pleases, another thing, to wit: that he has "a beautiful country residence containing 40 acres." I was not aware that there was, in the country, any residence gotten up on so magnificent a scale, as to be capable of containing such an amount of land. It must certainly be very thin land, and is packed away in layers, perhaps.

I can credit almost anything from CALEB's lips or pen, but I would like very much to have him explain, Messrs. Editors, I'd like to have him EXPLAIN. CALEB should bear in mind when he writes, that he is very deep, and he should accordingly endeavor to bring himself down to the level of the ordinary understanding.

I firmly believe that "auctions were started in Rome about the year 105, and were first held for the sale of military spoils, among soldiers behind a spear stuck in the ground," and there can be no doubt, (as CALEB supposes,) that the said "spear was painted red." CALEB don't say with what it was painted, but it was probably with blood, as the sale of the spoils could not have been held prior to an engagement. I believe all this, but when he tells us that he has "had left with him," such a bulky thing as ten acres of land, I'm rather inclined to think "it savors," although I have every confidence in CALEB's ability to explain, and hope he will do so.

Yours, INQUIRY.

MILWAUKEE, June 8, 1860.

(Our correspondent is not as sharp as CALEB after all, and it remains for us to tell him that Mr. WALL undoubtedly worded his advertisement in this particular manner for no other reason than to "bring out" somebody in the papers, and thus secure for it an extra publicity.)

MR. EDITOR:—I had almost made up my mind to say no more about hogs and cows, but to-day I saw with my own eyes a black cow, with a long and short horn, manage to get the trees under her control and eat off all the leaves. Now what shall we do? Are we compelled to suffer? Shall the cows and hogs be allowed to destroy our trees and gardens? I wonder if our worthy Mayor moved to his beautiful farm in the city limits to avoid cows and hogs. If he did, I think he acted wisely; but I think he should remember his old friends, and not allow them to suffer. I have said so much about cows and hogs, that I am almost at a loss what more to say, and I am afraid some sensitive and over-nice person will criticise my manner and mode of writing. Well, I cannot help it. Some law must be passed for cows and hogs, or we shall, I am afraid, be compelled to make a law of our own. Shame! shame! for a city of sixty thousand inhabitants, (and a beautiful city it is not to be surpassed in the United States,) that cows and hogs are allowed to run at large and destroy all our trees and gardens.

Aldermen and City Councilmen of the city of Milwaukee, will you allow this? Have you no taste for beauty? Do your duty; be men. Show your independence, or resign your offices at once, and let others have them that are not afraid to establish laws to protect us from cows and hogs.

CALEB WALL.

Presidential Election!

THE GREAT CAMPAIGN OF 1860 OPEN!!

Let Every Republican Prepare for the Conflict!!

Circulate Truth among the People!!

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL

Six Months for Less than Cost of Paper and Printing!!!

READ AND BE CONVINCED!

The present campaign is to be a memorable one. The battle will be fought zealously between the friends and the enemies of Freedom, and the ground contested inch by inch. In view of these facts, it is apparent that the dissemination of Republican papers and documents becomes of vast and vital importance. In order to furnish the WEEKLY SENTINEL to the people of the North-West, during the Campaign of 1860, we have concluded to offer the paper, FROM THE 1ST OF JUNE TO THE 1ST OF DECEMBER, at the following unprecedented liberal terms:

One Copy for	$0 50
Twenty Copies, (to one address)	$9 00
Fifty " "	$20 00
One Hundred do " "	$35 00

These terms will barely cover the cost of paper before it is printed; but we have determined to put the price so low that every individual Republican, or organized Club, in this or adjoining States, will use their best endeavors to scatter the SENTINEL broadcast in their particular localities, and thus accomplish more than by the circulation of ten times as many documents in any other form. Every Campaign subscriber will receive the full returns of the election in November.

We need not urge upon our Republican friends the importance of placing this sheet in the hands of all. Let no voter, or family in the State, be without the SENTINEL during the Campaign. Wheresoever facts are read and the people have access to truth, Republicanism prevails.

Send in your orders as early as possible.

TAKE THIS OCCASION TO ANNOUNCE to their friends, and the public at large, that they have removed from their old quarters to their present location, for the purpose of obtaining more ample accommodations for their business, and to keep pace with the requirements of their trade. We have just made heavy additions to our stock, which makes ours the best assorted Family Grocery in town, and we intend to be in future, as we always have been in the past, the first in the market with every novelty of the season. We are receiving goods every week from the East, thereby always keeping our stock fresh and full. Everything pertaining to the trade can be found at our establishment, and we are prepared to sell, at wholesale as well as retail, on as favorable terms as any concern in town. Teas, Sugars, Coffees, Dried Fruits, Hermetically Sealed Fruits, and every other article usually found in first-class family groceries, are sold by us, and always warranted as represented. We will sell you a better Tea for fifty cents, than you can buy anywhere else in town for seventy five, and as good a one for forty, as our windy cotemporaries, who make such a blow on TEAS, will or can sell for fifty. We mean what we say, and stand ready to verify it every hour in the day, and every day in the week. We make it a point never to be undersold, and want it distinctly understood that we do our business upon that principle.

Country merchants can always sort up their stock with us, to a good advantage. We will sell you goods by the package as low as any of the wholesale dealers down town.

Butter and Eggs are received by us daily, from our agents in the country.

OF ILLINOIS.

OF MAINE.

SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

Our District Convention.

The District Committee for this, the First Congressional District, consists of the following gentlemen. B. Domschke, Milwaukee; Henry Lines, Kenosha, Wyman Spooner, Walworth; W. E. Webding, Racine, and W. D. Bacon, Waukesha. We suggest to these gentlemen that they take an early occasion to compare views as to the best time and place for holding a Republican Mass District Convention; and make public their decision as speedily as may be. A correspondent of the Sentinel has suggested this city as the place and the 27th day of the present month as the time, for the proposed gathering. The Atlas seconds the suggestion; and we learn that it meets with favor in other parts of the District. But the Committee can readily ascertain, by an interchange of opinions, what time and place will best suit the mass of our friends in the District. The main thing is to call the Convention at as early a day as possible. Let us meet together, ratify the nominations, and then go to work in earnest, to organize for the campaign. It is to be no holiday contest, even in this staunch Republican State; though if the work is done up as it should be, we shall keep our Republican majority up to the high-water mark of 1856.

The Rejection of Kansas.

The News of Saturday astonished its readers and the public by the following declaration:

> "There is now very little if any prospect of the passage of the bill for the admission of Kansas at this session, and Mr. Sumner is responsible for its postponement."

A poor excuse, it is said, is better than none, and the News could not well find a poorer one for an intolerable wrong. The idea of holding Mr. Sumner responsible for the factious and unwarrantable conduct of the Democratic majority, is original, to say the least. The pretence that his speech is the cause of the postponement of the Kansas bill, is palpably absurd. It has been manifest, for weeks past, that the Democratic majority did not intend to pass the bill at this session. This purpose has been openly avowed, and was carried out in the party vote by which the bill was laid aside the other day.

Kansas is kept out of the Union by Democratic votes to punish her for preferring Freedom to Slavery, and to prevent her from voting for a Republican President next November. That is the whole story. The Democrats in the Senate had the power to exclude Kansas, and they have not scrupled to use it. It is a wanton, arbitrary and inexcusable outrage, and one which should call down upon the perpetrators the condemnation of every impartial press and the severest censure of the People.

The Republican Platform.

The platform adopted by the Convention at Chicago, while entirely acceptable to the Republican party, sorely troubles our Democratic opponents. Finding it impregnable to their assaults, they undertake to say that it does not truly reflect the Republican sentiment. The News of Saturday insists that "it is now made manifest by the speech of Mr. Sumner, that the platform is not a true exponent of Republican principles." Scarcely. Mr. Sumner speaks for himself; the Chicago Convention spoke for the Republican party. The platform there adopted has been cordially endorsed, everywhere, by the leaders, the press and the masses of the Republican party; and is the only authorized and accepted declaration of Republican principles and Republican policy.

Getting their Eyes Open.—The Chicago Convention accomplished one thing very effectually. It opened the eyes of the Democratic journals to the shining qualities and eminent public services of Senator Seward. Heretofore the Democratic papers have been accustomed to speak in disparaging and denunciatory terms of Mr. Seward, his doctrines and public career. Now all that is changed, and they have no language but praises for the great statesman of New York. The last number of the Appleton Crescent, for instance, publishes a letter from its New York correspondent in which the following passage occurs:

> There is not a candid, intelligent man, north or south, who would hesitate to pronounce Mr. Seward qualified by capacity, education and experience in public affairs for the position of President of the United States, were it not for his anti-slavery fanaticism which mars the symmetry of one of the most complete minds in every other respect that has ever adorned the Senate chamber.

All true save the "fanaticism." But the Democratic press never would have discovered, or, at least, never would have admitted the fact, but for the result at Chicago.

Strong Testimony.—That veteran and respectable journal, the National Intelligencer, says of Abraham Lincoln, that he is "justly entitled by his private worth and proved ability to wear with dignity and honor" any office that can be bestowed upon him. Of Mr. Hamlin, the same paper says "his long career in the Senate of the United States has familiarized his name to all our readers, who, with us, will bear testimony to the fidelity and industry with which he has fulfilled the high public trusts confided to him by the people of the State which he has so long, in part, been called to represent."

Republican Demonstration.—The workmen employed in Charles Kellogg & Co.'s Foundry and Machine shop, a large majority of whom are good Republicans, yesterday raised a liberty pole one hundred feet in height, and upon it hoisted a mammoth flag, nine by twenty-four feet in size. The flag is white with a red and blue border. The inscription on it reads:

LINCOLN AND HAMLIN!
PROTECTION TO HOME INDUSTRY.

It was run up with three hearty cheers for the candidates whose names it bears.—Detroit Advertiser.

Republican Rally.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

Messrs. Editors:—The Republicans in this vicinity are all awake, and movements for organization of Republican Clubs, and for Ratifying the Chicago Republican nominees are being made.

In pursuance of a call the friends of freedom and equality met at the Adland's school house the 6th inst., to organize a Republican Club, and ratify the nomination of Honest Old Abe.

Hon. R. Langland in the Chair, Thos. Adland Secretary. After the Chair had stated the object of the meeting, the Club was organized by the election of the following officers:

President—Hon. R. Langland.
Vice President—H. L. Gilmore.
" " Thos. Adland.
Recording Secretary—R. Adland.
Corresponding Secretary—Geo. Coote.
Treasurer—A. Britton.

Appropriate remarks were then made by several friends of the Republican cause, after which the following Preamble and Resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The history of the present Democratic Administration in its subserviency to the exactions of the slave power, has fully developed the necessity of a reform in the Federal Government, to first principles, as its practice by Washington and Jefferson. And to obtain these ends the Republican party has been organized. Therefore,

Resolved, That we do heartily concur in, and approve of the principles of the National Republican platform of 1860.

Resolved, That the nomination of Hon. Abraham Lincoln for President of the United States, and Hon. Hannibal Hamlin for Vice President, meet our unqualified approbation, and we pledge ourselves to use all honorable and proper means to secure their election next November.

The meeting then adjourned, and gave three cheers for the Republican candidate for the Presidency. REPORTER.

North Cape, June 7, 1860.

New Paper at Watertown.

"We are apprised by Mr. John Lawton, lately connected with the Delavan Northron, that he has just forwarded to the city of Watertown a printing office, pursuant to the immediate issue of weekly Republican paper. As there is now no Republican paper published in that thriving town, we know of no reason why the project of Mr. Lawton is not a good one. Success to the enterprise. It is to be called the Republican.

WATERTOWN, June 6, 1860.

Editor Sentinel:—Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find an article taken from the Daily Free Democrat, of the 4th inst, relative to the new Republican paper about to be started here.

As it overlooks the important fact that we have an effective German Republican paper called the Volks Zeitung, which is doing good service in the cause, please correct the erroneous inference to be drawn from the article by proper notice. Yours,

REPUBLICAN.

Habits of the Japanese.—The Japanese are very fond of children, and caress all that they meet in the halls of the hotel.—They have lately been in the habit of going out in groups of two and three, and sometimes singly, walking the whole length of the avenue, visiting shops, and gratifying their curiosity concerning our affairs. Usually they are attended by lads that have made their acquaintance, and they walk along, holding their hands, and smiling on their young white-faced friends, as if perfectly happy in their society. At a private concert in Willard's saloon, little Tommy was surrounded by Washington boys, and he sat with arm an around the neck of each of the two next him, evidently proud of his young American acquaintances.

Mr. Douglas' Absence Accounted For.—The Republican papers speak of the absence of Mr. Douglas from the Senate, when the vote was taken on the postponement of the Kansas bill, as strange and significant. He was detained at his house by the death of a child, but was paired off with Mr. Clay, of Alabama.—It seems to us that this ought to be satisfactory to the Republicans.—News of Saturday.

Undoubtedly the Republicans are satisfied with this explanation of Mr. Douglas' absence from the Senate at the time mentioned. They have no disposition to deal unjustly by the Illinois Senator.

Supreme Court Decisions.—Syllabus of the Unpublished Opinions.

Prepared expressly for the Madison State Journal.

[Copy-right secured by entree in the Clerk's Office of the District Court, for the District of Wisconsin.]

Harvey Durkee, Appellee, vs. Joseph Stringham, Appellant; Henry Stringham, Wesley Truesdall, Isaac Taylor, et al., in Equity; and Joseph Stringham, Appellant, vs Harvey Durkee, Isaac Taylor, et al., Appellees. Cross Bill, in Equity.

APPEAL FROM MILWAUKEE CIRCUIT COURT.

Where certain parties, associated in the formation of a joint stock company, for the purpose of holding—(in the name of a trustee)—and improving real estate, and manufacturing lumber, &c.; and to that end, fixed the nominal amount of their capital stock, and apportioned the same, issuing transferrable certificates therefor, to the several parties in interest; held

That these certificates represented an interest in the real and personal property of the association, which a court of equity would protect, and which could be sold or mortgaged by the owner, like other species of property; which sales or pledges had the effect to convey or encumber his proportion of the joint property, subject to the indebtedness of the association, and the equitable rights of the other parties.

An appeal, in Chancery, by one or more of several defendants, or plaintiffs, taken from the decree of the court below generally, and not from any collateral, separate or distinct ruling, opens the whole case in the appellate court for examination, and for the reversal, affirmance, or such modification of the decree as the whole merits and equities of the case seem to require.

Semble. The verbal admissions of a party are even to be received with caution; they are liable to be misunderstood by the witness retailing them, who may have, unintentionally, made important omissions; and they ought not to overcome and destroy the force of a settlement deliberately made by the parties in interest, and who must have known the true state of the account they were adjusting.

After a protracted litigation, with a full developement of the facts, and all the necessary parties before the court, to enable it to do complete justice, the cause ought not to go out of court upon any merely technical objection, or nice point of practice.

Peter Keenan, Plaintiff in Error, vs. the State of Wisconsin, Defendant in Error.

ERROR TO THE GRANT CIRCUIT COURT.

Keenan was indicted in Grant County, April 1857, for the murder of Peter Fagan —On the trial it was proved that Keenan and Fagan were fighting, and when Keenan was taken off from Fagan a severe wound with a knife was found upon him. Keenan was arrested and his hands and feet tied, and he was roughly treated. While in this condition he was asked what he had been doing, and cried and said, "I did not mean to kill him—I only intended to cut him." He also said, "Some words passed and Fagan asked me to get out of doors—had no idea of killing him." He was badly tied, and there were threats used towards him. One of the petit jurors had not been naturalized; and they were allowed to separate during the trial. On these facts the Court holds—

Confessions freely and voluntarily made by a prisoner charged with crime, though under arrest, are admissable in evidence.

Persons present at the scene of a homicide or felony, may arrest the offender and hold him in custody without a warrant from a magistrate.

To disqualify a juror on the ground of alienage, the best evidence which the nature of the case admits, must be produced. It is not sufficient that the records of the Courts of the county where he resides, have been examined, and no record of naturalization has been found.

After conviction, the presumption is that the jurors were competent, and satisfactory evidence must be produced to establish the contrary, before the verdict will be disturbed for that cause.

On the trial of capital offences the better rule is to hold, in cases of separation of the jurors during the trial, that unless it appears that the separation of the jurors was not followed by improper conduct on their part, nor by any circumstance calculated to exert an improper influence on the verdict, the verdict should be set aside in case of conviction.

In such case of separation, it is incumbent on the prosecution to show that the separation worked no harm to the defendant.

In order to reduce the offence of inexcusable or unjustifiable homicide to manslaughter in the fourth degree, under section 20 of chap. 133 of the Rev. Stat., the involuntary killing must be without a cruel or unusual weapon, and without any cruel or unusual means.

Sections 12, 14 and 20 of chapter 133 of the Revised Statutes considered.

CANANDAIGUA TO BALTIMORE.

The Scenery—The Towns—The Heavy Rains—The Weather.

EUTAW HOUSE, BALTIMORE, }
Wednesday, June 6th, 1860. }

Dear Sentinel:—The rapidity of modern locomotion makes quick work with latitude and longitude. In twenty-four hours I have passed full four degrees nearer the tropics. A most agreeable journey, over a new and interesting route, has transferred me from the rural shades of that "sleeping beauty, (Canandaigua,) to the graceful elegance of the "Monumental City."

Undoubtedly the most direct route from Western New York to the South is by the way of Williamsport and Harrisburgh. To Elmira by the Canandaigua branch of the New York and Erie railway is a ride of sixty-eight miles. This road has undergone extensive repairs since it passed under the management of the Erie, and its track is now in running order. It is not too much to say that the Erie is now one of the best operated roads in the country. Its cars are wide and clean, its trains are run with regularity safety and speed, and all its officers and employees, unlike those of many other large corporations, endeavor to perform their duty to the satisfaction of the travelling public.

As soon as you leave Elmira for Williamsport the scenery along the way begins to become strikingly picturesque. We started yesterday morning at half past four, and as the early mists rolled up from the hill-sides, the dark, rugged, broken landscape around us burst upon the view. Mountains, half covered with pines and bristling with jagged rocks, rise abruptly on either side, and tower threateningly above the puny train, that winds insignificantly around their base, through narrow valleys and deep gorges and dark ravines. Occasionally on either hand stretches a slender strip of rich bottom land, in meadow or planted with corn, but irregular in shape, and, especially below Canton, rarely of considerable extent. Crazy looking bridges, ancient and slender, span swift rivulets that dash over rocky beds hastening to the not distant river. At Ralston Station the romantic features of the route are most marked; and all along the Lycoming creek are beautiful views—the scene now rocky and precipitous and again clothed in the dark, rich verdure, which at this season is most brilliant and luxuriant.

Leaving Williamsport by the Pennsylvania Northern Central, we immediately cross the west branch of the old Susquehanna, with its familiar rafts of floating logs, and its quaint habitations of primitive structure along shore. Williamsport—a place of some thirty-five hundred inhabitants—is a thriving village, supporting two newspapers and several churches—proofs of the intelligence and morality of the population, which must be deemed conclusive. Here runs out the Catanissa Railroad—said to be the most crooked in the country. The track of the Northern Central still clings to the river bank, and repeatedly crosses and re-crosses the stream in a few miles. In many places the road is built close under the edge of the stony mountain side, whose rough, hard face shows its granite teeth close to our car window, while the serpentine river meanders upon the other side; and beyond, the margin of the green bottom land fills the little vale and skirts the base of another ridge, equally steep and equally rugged.

After passing Sunbury—a village of moderate pretensions, some fifty miles above Harrisburgh—the railway runs for a long distance along the left bank of the Susquehanna, which, increased now by the union of the north and west branches, here becomes a broad and handsome sheet of water. A few miles above Dauphin, looking across the river to our right, we perceive the entrance of another tributary, which adds perceptibly, not only to the volume of the current, but to its consistency. For it proves to be the Juniata—not as the ballad of "bright Alfaretta" has it, "the blue Juniata," but the muddy, the very "rily" Juniata.—Heavy rains have made it a yellow, tumbling river. Indeed, the entire route, and especially nearer Baltimore, exhibits to the eye abundant evidences of the late storm.—The streams are all swollen and turbid. The earth's surface is drenched and flooded, and every now and then, from the guttered hill-sides, an impromptu cascade—a juvenile Niagara, as short-lived as it is dirty, leaps down with all the dash and boisterousness of an experienced waterfall.

At Dauphin, a place of about 2,500 inhabitants, we cross the Susquehanna upon a well constructed bridge, seven-eighths of a mile in length, built of wood upon numerous solid stone piers. Here, also, and a short distance down the stream, the Pennsylvania Central makes its transit of the river, upon a bridge of about equal size.

Nine miles more, and we again cross, to Harrisburgh for dinner, and to connect with the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh trains. The city presents an attractive appearance and contains many handsome buildings, among which is the Capitol, situated upon an eminence in the south part of the town. Harrisburgh is one hundred and six miles from Philadelphia, eighty-five from Baltimore, two hundred and forty-seven from Pittsburgh, and has a population of about 10,000. Backing over again to the west side, we soon quit the Susquehanna for good, leaving the river quite to our left, while we run nearly due south to Baltimore.

The distance from Elmira to Baltimore is two hundred and fifty-six miles, and by this route it is run in thirteen hours. There are several things to commend this route to travellers who may come to the Baltimore Convention, or any other time to this city, viz: the scenery is splendid; there is no dust, because the road is wholly ballasted with stone and there is scarcely a grain of dirt near the track; and, thirdly, the managers are gentlemen, for, if all the employees are as fit for their places as Conductor Bessey, on the Erie, and John Miller, on the Northern Central of Pennsylvania, no complaints will ever be made of that insolent indifference characteristic of the officials of certain other roads.

We were landed here at the "Eutaw House" in season for tea. What I have to say of the Monumental City must be deferred until my next letter. The Japanese are to be here to-morrow, and I shall, of course, see them and invite them to visit Milwaukee —knowing they have not time to go, and there is no danger of their accepting. My next will describe the Embassy of the great Tycoon. It is not very warm here, the mercury this morning, at ten o'clock, stands at 73° in the shade. BADGER.

Excitement in Waupaca.—There was an exciting investigation before C. Belden, Esq., of this village, commencing on Saturday last and ending yesterday. It was on a charge of Mr. Clark, of Farmington, against Mr. Provost, for threatening to kill him. It is generally known that the domestic relations existing between Mr. Provost and wife have been of a stormy nature since their residence here. During the prevalence of one of these gales last week, Mrs. Provost invited Mr. Clark to the house for protection against her husband. The defendant, who was living in the barn near the house, felt uneasy at the appearance of things, and went to the window and threatened to kill Clark, if he did not leave. At this Mr. Clark came to Waupaca and made his complaint.

During the progress of the investigation, Clark whipped Mr. C. O. Brown's boy; whereupon Brown belted Clark. But the chief incident occurred between the loving Mr. and Mrs. Provost, on the Court House steps. From some remark made by Mr. Provost, his wife became greatly excited, and begun to scratch up his face in the most felicitous style, soon covering him with blood. The justice dismissed the case, there being no cause of action.—Waupaca Spirit.

Girls Rowing.—At the opening of the Staten Island Railroad, a boat containing excursionists was escorted homeward by half a dozen rowing clubs of Theodore Weld's school, made up principally of girls in short Balmoral petticoats, without hoops, and short legged pantaloons fastened below the knee, a la Turc, calling forth much applause from those on board the steamer. It is said that all of them can swim in case of accident.

The Burch Divorce Case.

From the Albany Atlas and Argus.

We publish on our first page, the defence of Mrs. Burch from the charge of infidelity brought against her by her husband. We would rather be spared the necessity of making such an affair as this public. It is not our habit, and does not suit our tastes. If the accusation had been made in the ordinary way, we would have let the defence meet it with disproof, on the trial; and so far as this community is concerned, with the record and experience of her youthful life here, and of all that friends and acquaintances have learned of her womanly demeanor, in the home from which she has been thrust. But a cruel ingenuity made her her own accuser; and the fact of her confessions and written admissions was paraded through the press, in a way to undo all the presumptions which character and conduct furnished.

To those who declared it impossible to believe that a modest and virtuous girl—no flirt, no belle, no devotee of fashion—but a humble, discreet, pious mother of children, would be thus grossly guilty, the answer was pointed to in her own admission. If she is true, that must be untrue—if she is pious, it cannot be false; if she is a true wife and mother, she cannot have thus belied herself, in either relation.

But the wife and mother explains here, under what physical and moral coercion, she a weak and perplexed woman, was forced and deceived into this fatal error. We know nothing more repulsive than the history it presents. There is always something revolting in a husband forcing a wife to become the witness of her own dishonor, even when his wrongs are real. It was the worst act in the Sickles drama, that he had done this thing, even in the extremity of an anger that culminated in frenzy and horrors. When a wife is innocent, and the guilty husband plays upon her fears, or deludes her hopes so as to make her the instrument of her own destruction and drives her to the suicide of her own honor, it reveals a character of unmeasured malignity and ignobility of soul. We do not make this accusation against Mr. Burch.

It is this wife of many years, the mother of his children, that makes it, and charges it home, with a particularity and detail, that he can only meet, by imputing to her a new form of falsehood, and one that his own testimony will refute, for, to make out his case, he admitted her to be frank and truthful in her penitence. What a picture does she not present! A husband who is a Pecksniff and a Domb-y in one, cold, grasping at money, making his affections subservient to it, and actually accumulating the charges of his domestic dishonor, and piling them up as if no one could make usury upon them, proportioned to the grossness of his capital—drawing sight drafts on paramours, taking acceptances and assignments from the wife, bringing in his business partner to unite in the transaction, and finally protesting his dishonored wife under a notorial seal! In all things (except the three days of grace,) playing the banker.

But in this case, and in all such cases, we assume not the prerogative to judge! We merely desire to explain our motives for publishing this plea, in which a woman explains how she weakly and foolishly signed testimony against herself; and to express the emotions to which her story in this community, where she was known as a girl, gives rise. We have no doubt there is another side to the case; nor that Mr. B. will present it with coolness and systematic precision and an accumulation of detail on his side, that he has prepared, since he first formed the purpose, to sever this nuptial tie. But it is not necessary for him to do this. This public scandal is itself a divorce. No wife, thus wronged by public accusation, can be asked to unite again with a husband. Whichever accusation is right, that of conspiring to accuse of infidelity, or that offence itself, the work is done as effectually as if a court had decreed it. And this is why it is a public offence to make parade of accusations like these, which compromise the peace of families, and weaken the public sense of domestic purity. In nine cases out of ten, accusations like these are unsustainable and fall dead, and the parties (if the outside world is not called in to witness and interfere) find happiness in re-union. But publicity, and particularly that of the press and of the courts, prevents this, and even where spotless innocence is proved in the end, leaves a wound that never closes.

EARLY AFFECTIONS.

A TALE OF THE SEA COAST.

BY WILL H. MORRISON.

"Within thy inmost temple keep
A love of virtue, pure and deep—
Of God and Truth and Beauty;
So shalt thou lift sad souls above
Life's woes, by love; the path of love
Is aye the path of duty."

Love, it matters not how modified by time or circumstances, however disguised by modest prudence or the mingling of other passions, is even the true, the faithful inhabitant of the human heart. It appears its distinguishing characteristic. It hourly brings into existence the most innocent simplicity. It is seen in the happy eyes and glad voice, and gesture of the infant, when it hears its mother's well-known words of endearment. The school boy surrounded by all his frolic, wanderings and light hearted carelessness, feels in every hour in which the exhuberance of his playful spirits permits him to feel, that his home, and the inmates of that home, although they have been inured to sing the lovely songs of life, are dearer to his youthful heart than all else beside. Aye, and not unfrequently, there are some of his schoolmates the recipients of his fond recollections, though they may not be among those who have passed their joyous childhood around the sacred hearth of his father's fireside.

Youth—'tis then that the reign of love is at its zenith; it would be unnecessary to add that then its thrilling and electric glow is the one subduing and engrossing feeling. Ambition, with its bright alluring anticipations, may lead the haughty heart of manhood astray; but the hero or conqueror feels his heart bound when he lays the laurels he has won at the feet of her, before he is himself subdued, with a rapture far deeper, purer, even nobler than it did when his resistless powers forced victory to declare the triumph his. Nay, his ambition was love misdirected, as was proved by the sweet, calm, satisfied thrill that pervaded his entire frame, and choose a home in his delighted heart when he performed the homage due to his spirit's acknowledged and rightful sovereign. All powers, however subtle, all passions, however strong and unwrought with our nature become enfeebled by age, with the single exception of this all-pervading universal characteristic—love. Aye, judgment and reason may desert its throne, yet the heart loves on. Let the dotage of the poor old man be pardoned, pitied if you will, but not despised; for it is but a proof that while the human being exists, he cannot cease to love.—Puerile imbecility may be there, but it is most touching to see that tenderest, most delicate and purest of passions outliving all of grosser turning, turning around him, with all its soft human longings and attachments, even in the midst of his decay, and refusing to vacate its habitation in his heart till the fragile thread, which binds soul and body together is severed, and the heart's flutterings are stilled. Not less useful to man then permanently abiding. It is impossible for him to tell what he may be, do or endure, till the self-animating spirit of love calls him into action or sufferance.

Man, in his dreamy childhood, before his moral and intellectual capabilities have been called into requisition, is a mighty compounded solidity of unknown, unawakened power. True respect or love touches the hidden impetus, and stirring up all those dormant faculties, influences and prompts the gifted being to step forth into the world with all of his high and noble aspirations aroused and enlisted, the character of his heart and life indelibly impressed upon every thought, purpose and action, and prepared to brave with unshrinking fortitude, every peril which may threaten to obstruct his course, though arrayed in the wildest and most appalling form. And oh! who could forego the consolation that it pours on the fainting heart in its hours of sickening despondency! If such be its influence upon man, what must it be in woman—that beautiful assemblage of all that is enviable, delicate, refined, and exalted in human nature! In the tender care, the watchful and unwearied solitude of a mother, you may view its perfection! There you behold a depth and a purity which man may aspire to and emulate, but can never hope to attain; and there is a time in every woman's life, when the key which locks the deepest love of her soul is turned by the master hand; and then she can no more help loving than the lark can help soaring up toward the blue etherial heavens above. You might as well bid the proud waves of old ocean to be calm, as to bid a woman to divest herself of that love, when the time has come for the development of the latent spark. It is an utter impossibility.—Now matter how widely seperate their circumstances in life—no matter how fondly reason may whisper, "it must not be;" or pride and prudence may urge, "it is unwise;" everything, everything falls as resistlessly before it, as that days fall off into the mighty past, before the great destroyer—Time. But first love has been distinguished by a peculiar disdainfulness of sneer, as if less likely to be true and enduring than that of a more advanced and matured period of life.

"Oh, lame and impotent conclusion!"—When the heart is young, it is true to impulse, and to guile a stranger, is it less qualified to receive a deep and a permanent impression than after its trembling sensibilities have been seared, its fresh and dewy purity sullied and departed, and the bright fervor of its morning radiance overcast and darkened? It has been called unpopular—even childish; but are not the feelings and passions of the child the germs of which the outbudding is to give a shade to the character of the man? Reason, that God-given power, says that first love must be the purest; and experience, the teacher that deals with stern realities, declares that it is most lasting. To confirm this, it would be enough to appeal to the personal experience of every one in his own individual feeling, if his heart has not, in his very youth, been deadened by the degrading pursuit of some sordid purpose. Even then the oldest and most heartless soul will own that what enchanted its affections when young, left an indelible impression which no subsequent event could ever wholly eradicate.

Gentle reader, we have been led into an unwonted degree of prefacing by a desire to obliterate certain prejudices, ere we proceed to relate an event which once influenced by those prejudices, and a stranger to the reality of the circumstances, might be inclined to think improbable; but which some will know to be true. To the latter this introductory was unnecessary, and might be passed over; the former, if they have not felt, do not feel, nor can be brought to feel and understand the deep, and engrossing and abiding power of love, especially of first love, are more to be pitied than envied.

CHAPTER II.

"Time makes all but True Love cold.
The burning thoughts that then were told
Run molten still in memory's mold,
And will not cool."

CAMPBELL.

Walter Emerson had been recently united to a most amiable young lady, whose charms both of mind and person had long engaged his tenderest affections. Deep, calm, and unalloyed was the happiness which pervaded his soul in his hours of undisturbed retirement, accompanied by her who was to him a ministering angel of genial bliss. But, like all earth's transitory happiness, those hours sped fast away. He was one of those gallant men "whose home is on the deep;" and soon, too soon he received orders to resume his command on board the A—— privateer.

The call of his country could not be heard in vain. He immediately joined his vessel, curbing his feelings as he best might, appearing to show before his gallant crew no symptoms of backwardness to leave his native land. It would not indeed be possible for a man possessing such daring courage to look around him upon so many brave fellows, ready at a moment to execute whatever enterprise of peril he should command, and even while he beheld their hardy resolution, still felt sick despondency weighing down his heart.

His feelings were partly concealed, partly thrown aside, yet he bore himself as a man possessing daring courage—a true American commander.

During his cruise, he received one letter from home, informing him that his presence would have been very agreeable, to welcome a young stranger, whose open countenance bespoke him an Emerson. His young wife had gone to reside with a distant relative till his return. That relative had been married several years, but as yet had no family, and, as there had been, even from their childhood, a very friendly intimacy between her and Mrs. Emerson, she had prevailed upon the latter to reside with her, chiefly with the kind intention of preventing that melancholy into which she appeared so inclined to sink. The affectionate and maternal care of Mrs. Clifford, the relative alluded to, was of the greatest advantage to the lonely and tender mother.

But her greatest pleasure was to sit and gaze on her infant son, tracing what she conceived to be his close resemblance to his distant father. That sweet, pure infant was no doubt dear, very dear, to its mother's heart, as her own infant; but what must have been her love to the father, when every faint resemblance which the lovely innocent bore to him made it doubly dear! Oh! What man could but duly appreciate the deep and all-absorbing love of woman! that he should feel but the hundreth part of that fervent, disinterested passion which fills her entire soul, and makes her esteem all her sufferings as nothing if she can but minister to his happiness! Were he but blessed as he ought to be, in feeling himself the object of such pure, devoted attachment, he never could act to woman the mean, the selfish, the ungenerous part that he too often degrades himself by acting. While woman thinks but of him she loves, and makes all her actions, all her wishes, all her thoughts subservient to his felicity, man—proud, selfish, unfeeling man—regards but the gratification of his desires,—his love scarce passes beyond himself.—Yet this is too severe and general a censure. Men are not all so; and the wisest, best and greatest of men are those who can best estimate the value of woman's gentle, loving heart.

JUNIUS JUDSON,

PATENTEE AND MANUFACTURER OF JUDSON'S PATENT
GOVERNOR VALVES, FOR REGULATING THE MOTION OF STEAM ENGINES,

WARRANTED THE MOST PERFECT Governor of Steam Power in the world, and like all really great inventions, the most simple. Manufactured by Judson & Snow, at Rochester, N. Y., Selye Buildings, near R. R. Depot.

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

Patent issued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1849. Reissued, Jan. 4th, 1851. Second Patent, March 4th, 1851. Patented also in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 6th, 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves to open with a rapidly increasing ratio of opening, by increasing the width of the opening made in the valve—or by accelerating the opening motion of the ordinary valves in use—or by combining increased width of opening, with accelerated valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the resistance to the piston's motion, (or rate of the engine,) the power to open the valve just the exact amount of aperture necessary to counteract that resistance; and from the aperture, by the addition of equal amounts of resistance, notwithstanding that the action of the governor is continually decreasing in its effects.

Therefore reverse the action of valves combined with governors, as heretofore used. And as this effect can be produced by many different mechanical devices, (apparently not similar, but really indentical with my improvement,) by which infringers have imposed upon the public, I therefore caution and request all persons interested, to examine carefully all alleged improvements in valves or governors, to see if the application of this truth or principle, first discovered and applied by me, is not involved in their arrangements;—and thereby prevent a fraud upon the purchaser and inventor, both of which are at present much annoyed by their piratical depredations. City Auction and Land Office.

LET ALL WHO HAVE THE BLUES READ THIS!—Why should any one be discouraged? Mr. J. B. Martin informed me to day that he has purchased 40 feet by 120, corner of East Water and Wisconsin streets, for which he pays five hundred dollars per foot, making twenty thousand dollars. He intends to put up stores, offices, &c., &c., on the same, which will be an ornament to the city, and will cost him from thirty to forty thousand dollars. I think we should all feel brighter than we do, and our friend J. B. Martin deserves much praise, for you will remember that he was the first man who took the responsibility of erecting the magnificent blocks of stores in our city several years ago.

Capt. Marcy's Prairie Traveler.

—A Reliable Guide to—
PIKE'S PEAK,
UTAH, OREGON AND CALIFORNIA.

THE PRAIRIE TRAVELER,
A HANDBOOK FOR OVERLAND EMIGRANTS.
With Maps, illustrations, and Itineraries of the Principal Routes between the Mississippi and the Pacific.
BY RANDOLPH B. MARCY,
CAPTAIN U. S. ARMY.
Published by Authority of the War Department.
12mo, muslin, $1,00.

NO MAN INTENDING TO VISIT Pike's Peak will be without this book, if he knows how important it is to him, as it contains, among other things, itineraries of the best roads that have been traveled, from the Missouri River, with the measured distances between each camping place, and a minute description of the wood, water and grass. Capt. Marcy, who is perfectly familiar with the country about Pike's Peak, has given an accurate description of it, with a map, which will be found in the book.

Should the emigrant, after his arrival at Pike's Peak, desire to go to New York, Utah, Oregon, or to the newly discovered Washoe Mines in Carson Valley, he will find among the numerous Itineraries the most careful and minute descriptions of the best roads to each place.

With this book in his hand the traveler will be able on starting out from each camp, to tell precisely how far he has to go before he reaches the next camping place, which will enable him to regulate his drives to the best advantage for his animals.

St. Nicholas Hotel,

BROADWAY,
NEW YORK.

WHEN COMPLETED, SIX YEARS ago, the St. Nicholas was universally pronounced the most magnificent, convenient, and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind on this continent. What it was then, it remains today—without a rival in sumptuousness, and in the general elements of comfort and enjoyment. The Hotel has accommodations for 1,000 guests, including 100 complete suites of apartments for families. Six hundred persons can be comfortably seated at the tables of its three public dining rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenience and social gratification of the traveling public has been omitted in its plan, or is neglected in its practical details. The early reputation of the house at home and abroad derived from its magnitude, its superb appointments, and its homelike comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unwearied exertions of the proprietors.

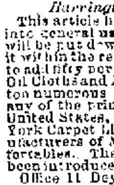
SOYER'S SULTANA'S SAUCE,

For Hot and Cold Dishes of all Kinds.



THIS MOST DELICIOUS and appetising Sauce, invented by the renowned "SOYER," for the London Reform Club, is, since his decease, manufactured by the well known house of CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, from the original recipe. It is the favorite sauce in England and on the Continent, with a high and growing reputation among American epicures, and is much approved of as a stimulant to the appetite and aid in digestion.

Opinions of the London Press.

"We recommend our correspondent to try MONS. SOYER'S new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe; its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of SLOW AND WEAK DIGESTION."—The Lancet.

"Savory, Piquant and Spicy, worthy the genius of Soyer."—Observer.

"A most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh and Fowl, and should have a place on every table."—Atlas.

SAVE YOUR CARPETS!

THE GREAT ENQUIRY HAS BEEN made for a number of years by housekeepers, What shall we put under our carpets to protect them from wear and moth? This grand, valuable discovery was affected and patented April 1st, 1856, by J. R. HARRINGTON, and is called Harrington's Patent Carpet Lining.

This article having proved its utility has now come into general use, so much so that scarcely a carpet is put down without it, and its cheapness puts it within the reach of every family. It is warranted to add fifty per cent to the durability of Carpets, Oil Cloths and Matting. The details of its merits are too numerous to mention. It can be obtained at any of the principal Carpet Stores throughout the United States, and is manufactured only by the New York Carpet Lining Company. Also, extensive manufacturers of Mammoth Cotton Batting, and Comfortables. The best and cheapest that have ever been introduced in the market.

Office 11 Dey St.; Salesroom 440 Pearl St., New York.

All orders of information requested will be attended to with promptness and dispatch.

Richardson's Irish Linens, Damaks,

DIAPERS, &C.—CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm, J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother, is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

NURSING SORE MOUTH

In the more advanced stages of it extends to the stomach, ensuing

DYSPEPSIA

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to

CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury. Yours truly,
DONALD KENNEDY.

DR. CHURCHILL'S REMEDY.

WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION OF THE

HYPOPHOSPHITES
OF LIME AND OF SODA,
(Made from the Formula of Dr. J. F. Churchill,)
FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE SUCCESS OF THIS NEW REMEDY, (discovered by Dr. Churchill, of Paris,) is obtaining the most UNBOUNDED POPULARITY throughout Europe and the United States. It is a purely SCIENTIFIC PREPARATION, and acts with INVARIABLE EFFICACY in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Diseases.

This Remedy has not only a curative effect, but will, if used wherever there exists a suspicion of the disease, PREVENT ITS DEVELOPMENT, and thus act, as a preservative with regard to Consumption, just as vaccination does with regard to small-pox.

What the Medical Profession Say.

"In no instance have I found the Remedy to fail."—Dr. Churchill.

"I have used your preparation of the Hypophosphites with the most happy effect."—C. Fisher, M. D., Lynville, Ill.

"I have been astonished in witnessing the good effects of the Hypophosphites. The statements in your pamphlet are not at all exaggerated. My patient was just entering the last stage of tubercular consumption."—S. Moner, M. D., Hoosic Falls, N. Y.

"They exert an important remedial influence over the tubercular disease by improving the nervous strength and invigorating the nutritive functions."—Dr. W. E. Rust, Morristown, N. J.

"I have derived more satisfaction from the use of your Hypophosphites than from all other forms of medication combined."—Dr. Geo. W. Maris, Columbus, O.

"If, on the earliest appearance of the symptoms, the patient takes daily about ten grains of the hypophosphites, he will speedily find himself in the enjoyment of such health as he, perhaps, had never known in his life before."

"Winchester's Hypophosphites are unexceptional in their preparation."—Am. Druggists' Circular.

"Mr. Winchester is worthy of all confidence, and devotes himself enthusiastically to these preparations in all their variety of combination. Prepared strictly by Dr. Churchill's method."—D. Meredith Reese, M. D., New York.

"LOWELL, O., July 5, 1859.—I have had several cases given up by attending physicians who are now exempt from all the symptoms of pulmonary disease.—I have used the Remedy in my own case, with decided success. It was regarded as hopeless by physicians and friends, and even by myself, under the 'old treatment.' I am now able to ride, in attending the sick, as many miles, perhaps, in a day, as any other physician in the country."—W. F. Clark, M. D.

"The Hypophosphites are most appropriate Remedies in large class of affections resulting from loss of nervous force."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Churchill's Work on Consumption, IS NOW READY.

The Hypophosphites may be used with incurable success in Chronic Bronchitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

Make no Delay!

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is "chemically pure"; is the combination proposed by Dr. Churchill "for general use"; and is prepared according to his original Formula.

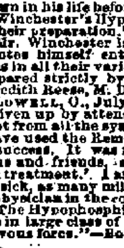
Scrofula, or King's Evil,



IS A CONSTITUTIONAL disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this blood becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease upon any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there any one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which engenders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla

The most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptive and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Blains and Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Syphilitic and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Debility, and, indeed, all complaints arising from Vitiated or Impure Blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

The Japanese at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, June 8—3 P. M.

This P. M. the Embassy dined with the Mayor and members of the City Council at the Gilmore House.

Afterwards they took their station on the portico to witness the operations of the paid Fire Department and the fire alarm telegraph. An alarm box was placed on the portico, and after being explained to the Ambassadors, an alarm was communicated through the city, and in a few moments the entire department, with steam fire engines and hook and ladder companies, were on the ground ready for operation. Numerous streams of water were thrown to a great height, which seemed greatly to astonish and interest the visitors, who made many inquiries concerning the novel exhibition.

The Vice Governor of the Embassy explained officially the high gratification of the Ambassadors.

Their reception thus far seems to have given them the greatest satisfaction—all the arrangements having been carried out in a manner reflecting much credit on the judgment and good taste of those having it in charge. To night there was a grand display of fire works in front of the hotel, and the throng of people was immense. The visitors leave to-morrow morning in a special train for Philadelphia.

BALTIMORE, June 9—3 P. M.

The Japanese passed down Baltimore street to the depot at 10 o'clock this morning, en route to Philadelphia. They rode in open barouches, and were escorted by two military companies and a large police force. The streets were thronged with spectators. The Japanese gracefully and smilingly waved their adieus, in response to the waving handkerchiefs of the ladies.

Subsequently the ambassadors expressed to Mayor Swan and the Committee of Arrangement, the delight and gratification they had experienced at their splendid reception.

The special train, handsomely decorated, left at half-past 10 o'clock, amid tremendous cheering from the vast concourse of people who blocked up all the avenues and streets in the vicinity.

Baltimore has given them an idea of what they may expect in Philadelphia and New York, though it will be difficult to exceed their reception and welcome here, or do as much to please and interest the distinguished visitors as the Baltimoreans have crowded into 24 hours.

Fears of an Assault on Mr. Sumner.

WASHINGTON, June 9—3 P. M.

Many rumors of an extraordinary character prevail as to Senator Sumner. It appears that last evening an individual, representing himself from Virginia, called at his room and imperiously demanded an explanation of certain parts of his recent speech. Mr. Sumner gave him no satisfaction, and ordered him to depart, which he did with threats.

At a subsequent hour, three others called, halting in the passage, and sent up word that they wished to see him alone. They refused the invitation to enter his room, where Mr Sumner was surrounded by friends, and left, sending a threatening message by the servant that they would come with a force to assault him at ten o'clock this morning, when Mr. Sumner's friends were again present, in view of these occurrences. Some of them accompanied him from his residence to the Senate to-day, apprehensive of personal violence. They are determined to exercise watchfulness and precaution. The attention of the Chief of Police has been called to the subject.

John Reeves, Naval Architect, and late chief constructor at the naval arsenal, Constantinople, filed to-day before the Committee on Foreign Affairs, charges of a severe character against John P. Brown, dragoman and Secretary of Legation at Constantinople. The charges are of robbery, attempted assassination, false imprisonment, conniving with others to deprive Mr. Reeves of his fortune under the Turkish Government, and secure it for an Englishman, and several others of an equally serious character. Mr. Reeves asks in his petition that investigation be made into these charges, as they are susceptible of the clearest proof.

WASHINGTON, June 8.

Maj. Gen. Jessup was struck with paralysis this morning, and to-night there is no prospect of his recovery.

During the meeting an extract was read from Hon. Millard Fillmore's letter, to the fact that he would vote for Bell and Everett, even if his should be the only vote cast for them in this State.

The Senate have yet to act upon the latter.

One point of their defence is that Fowler was a defaulter of $90,000 at the time of the execution of the bond, which fact was well known to officers of the Department at Washington.

A special Washington despatch to the Evening Post says: It is generally supposed that it was the intention of the assailants of Mr. Sumner to assassinate him on the spot. An error in the types yesterday made us quote Exchange at 1¼—¾ ⅌ cent below the current rate.

The week closes on a quiet money market, and the only feature wherein it has differed from last week is a more abundant supply of Exchange, the result of larger exports and increased activity in the produce market. The current rate is the same, 1¼ ⅌ cent prem., and cannot well be lower as long as it continues to bring 1¾ in Chicago. Currency is in good supply, and there is no trouble in getting good commercial paper done at 10 ⅌ cent.

EXCHANGE AT CHICAGO is in better supply and rates easy at 1¼ premium on the street, and 1½ at the banks. Gold selling at 1¾ prem.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE AT CINCINNATI.—The Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday, thus reports financial matters:

The demand for money, which is moderate, continues to be freely met, so far as the offerings are satisfactory, at 10@12 ⅌ cent. The regular houses take all the good paper offered by depositors, and securities of this class are not offered to any extent outside, where the supply of capital is ample.

Eastern Exchange was in better supply with nearly all the dealers, and the market was easy, without, however, leading to any downward inclination in rates. New Orleans was dull at ½ dis buying and par selling. There was little or no demand for gold except for shipment. Dealers continue to pay 25 prem. But little done in bills, the offering continuing light. Good names are in demand at rates within the range of 6@10 for Eastern and 10@12 for New Orleans.

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY P. M., June 9th, 1860.

Our report from New York to-day, quotes flour a shade easier, and wheat heavy; sales of Milwaukee Club at $1,30.

The wheat market was almost at a stand to-day, and with more truth we may say the same of flour, buyers not much disposed to operate, and holders unwilling to submit to any material decline.

The trifling sales were principally at $1,08 for No. 1 spring in store, $1,09 delivered, and $1,10@1,10½ for Club. At the close $1,07 was all that was offered for No. 1 in store, but sellers held out firmly for $1,08. There was nothing whatever done in flour, that we could hear of. The only transactions in freights reported, was the engagement of the schooner Arcturus for wheat to Port Colborne at 5½c. The receipts of wheat to-day were 25,260 bushels.

The following statement exhibits the daily receipts of flour and grain by railroad for the past week, and also the exports of the same articles by lake for the week:

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PROCEEDINGS.—At the meeting of grain dealers on 'Change to-day, the following resolutions, recommended by the Board of Directors, were adopted by a unanimous vote:

Resolved, That grain receipts shall not bear date more than twelve days previous to delivery, unless by mutual agreement between buyer and seller.

Resolved, That in all sales of grain by the car load, it shall be understood that 300 bushels constitutes a car load, unless otherwise agreed upon.

CHICAGO MARKET, JUNE 8TH.—Receipts of the articles named, at Chicago, yesterday, were as follows:

Flour, bbls	1,404
Wheat, bus	17,197
Corn, bus	58,449
Oats, bus	2,327
Rye, bus	75
Barley, bus	32

The Press & Tribune says of the market:

The continued light receipts of corn, as well as a slight improvement in New York and Buffalo, caused an increased speculative and shipping demand to-day, and the market advanced ½@1c. About 170,000 bus of all grades changed hands at 48c for canal. adval; 45@50c for No. 1 in store; and 46@47½c for No. 2—the market at the close, however, being rather quiet, with sales of No. 1 at 49c in store. Wheat was in good shipping request and steady at yesterday's prices—about 70,000 bus being sold at $1,06@1,07 for No. 1 spring, and $1,05 for No. 2 spring. Flour was quiet and neglected, with limited transactions at $5@5,25 for medium to spring extras. Oats in good shipping demand and firm at 22c. Rye in better request and higher—sales being made at 74c delivered at cars. Barley is dull and drooping. Highwines easier and more active—transactions varying from 18@18½c.—Alcohol 37c. Provisions quiet. Hides quiet and about ½c lower on dry flint.

Freights were more active and somewhat firmer today—several vessels being engaged at 3@3½c for corn to Buffalo, 6½c for wheat to Oswego, 6c for corn to Oswego, and 4½c for oats to Oswego.

NEW YORK WOOL MARKET.—(From Thursday's Tribune.)—The demand is limited, as the attention of the trade is now centered towards the wool growing districts, where manufacturers and their agents as well as dealers, have already been making purchases. But most of the accounts respecting prices in town and country are conflicting in the extreme, and entitled to no respect. From some localities we learn that sales are making at last year's prices; from others that an advance of 2c ⅌ lb on last year's prices is obtained; and from other districts we hear bearish rumors of a decline of 7½c ⅌ lb, with nothing to justify this latter assertion but an uneasy money market here and in England, with a decline in the rate of interest and short supplies of fine wools everywhere, while the mills are running full blast, generally. How absurd the idea that wools must suffer such a great depreciation in prices, when stubborn facts go to show that such is not the case, and that the farmers are in a better condition to hold their wools than they were last year, while the state of the money market, and the less warlike attitude of France give evidence of less fearful forebodings than were anticipated one year since, when speculators and dealers were timid about purchasing the clip, and consequently the greater portion fell into the hands of manufacturers.

It is now claimed that the prices then paid were too high, but the farmers do not say so. They assert that they only received a fair value for their wool, and this is all they claim now. If dealers are not prepared to pay it, they ask them to stay at home till they send the wools to market, and not resort the miserable subterfuge in depreciating their property which is still growing on the sheep's back. We repeat, therefore, if holders get fair value for their wools thus early—say 40@50c to full blood and fine Saxony—they probably would be justified in selling their goods as early sales generally turn out best, and this was particularly the case last year. The transactions include 55,000 lbs Domestic Fleece at 35@55c for common to full blood Saxony; 15,000 lbs California at 12½@28c for common to fine; 36,000 lbs Pulled, at 30c for No. 1 City; 35c for super, 37½c for Lamb's, and 41½@43c for super and extra country; also 54 bales Rio Grande, washed and unwashed, at 18c for the former, and 11c for the latter, 3 mos; 30 do Buenos Ayres, 200 do washed Smyrna, and 450 do Chilian on p. t. We quote:

Am. Saxony Fleece, ⅌ lb	50@55
Am. Full blood Merino	50@54

Weekly Review of Milwaukee Markets.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL,
Saturday, P. M., June 9th.

Our wheat market has presented rather an unsettled aspect during the past week, for several days vacillating between the depressing influence of the advices from Europe, and the counterinfluence which the more buoyant condition of Eastern markets exercised during the early part of the week. Later, the New York market gave way slightly, and shipping grades are now fully 1c below the closing prices of last week. The receipts continue larger than anybody expected, being about treble what they were at the same period last year; but while this is the case here, the deliveries at Chicago are at least a third less than last year at this time. The unlooked for increase in our receipts is, therefore, plainly due to a concentration of the northwestern wheat trade at Milwaukee, more than to any any other cause. And this result is nothing more or less has been foreseen and confidently predicted by sagacious men for years.

Below is a comparative statement of the closing prices of wheat in this market for several weeks:

	No. 1 Spring.	No. 2 do.	No. 1 Club.	Extra Club.
May 5th	$1,12½	$1,10	$1,14@1,15	$1,15@1,16
do 12th	1,11	1,09	1,14@1,15	1,15@1,16
do 19th	1,08	1,08	1,12@1,18	1,14@1,14½
do 26th	1,05	1,05	1,05@1,10	1,10@1,11
June 2d	1,09	1,07	1,12@1,13	1,13@1,14
do 9	1,08	1,06	1,10	1,10½@1 11

The two first named in store; Club delivered.

The flour market throughout the whole week has been heavy, especially for ordinary and lower grades, which have declined 10@15c, $5 being the outside price offered for fair shipping brands at the close. Sellers have been more disposed to meet the views of buyers than last week, and the sales indicate a fair degree of activity.

The transactions in coarse grains have been trifling, and are given below.

Quite a number of vessels have been chartered at 4½c for wheat to Buffalo, and 7c to Oswego. To-day, shippers are offering only 4c to Buffalo, but previous rates are still asked. Oats are taken at 3c to Buffalo, and the rates on flour by steam remain unchanged, namely:

To Buffalo (nominal)..........25c ⅌ bbl.
To New York..........60c do
To Oswego..........40c do
To Ogdensburgh..........45c do
To Boston, (via Ogdensburgh)..........59c do

Below are the principal transactions of the week in the various articles of produce:

Milwaukee Lumber Market.

FOR WEEK ENDING JUNE 9TH, 1860.

The receipts of lumber, shingles, and lath, at this port, by lake, for the past two weeks and since January 1st, have been as follows:

	This week.	Last week.	Since Jan. 1st.
Lumber, feet	2,235,000	1,462,000	9,717,000
Shingles	677,000	414,000	5,123,000
Lath, ft	60,000	20,000	577,000

The receipts of the past week are larger than for any preceding one in two years. A good share of this was on owners' accounts, and the amount actually on the market was not unusually large. The business of the week was confined to sales of ten cargoes, at an average price of about $6,50 ⅌ M for mixed lumber. An occasional cargo sold as high as $7, and on the other hand as low as $6,00. But to-day and yesterday it was almost impossible to sell a cargo at previous prices, buyers not offering more than $6,25 for the best qualities of assorted lumber, and in more than one instance $6 was the outside figure named. The sales reported are as follows:

Cargo of brig Mahoning, from Oconto, at $6,75;
do do schr. Juniata Patton, from Oconto, at $6,50;
do do Sterrach, from Manitowoc, at $6,75;
do do Emma, do do 6,50;
do do Paulina, do do 6,50;
do do Kitty Grant, from White Lake at $6,50 do do b.ig Sam Hale, from Oconto, at $7;
do do schr. Stella, from Two Rivers, at $6,50;
do do Guido, from Oconto, at $6,50;
do do Levant, from Grand Haven, at $6;

Prices at the yards tend downward, and should the prospects of an abundant supply continue as good as at present, it is not unlikely there will soon be a reduction from the present low rates. We have made no change in our quotations this week, for although some qualities may have sold a shade lower, the difference is hardly worth mentioning:

The Growing Crops.

From Wells' Express.

WILMINGTON, Ill., June 4, 1860.

Wheat in this section is looking remarkably well for this season of the year. Cool nights and warm days, with occasionally a shower, have caused the crops to start right along. Oats never were better and promise an abundant yield.

Corn is always good in this vicinity, and if the weather is as good through the summer as it has been this spring, there will be as much raised as in the two preceding years.

It was the opinion of many that there would be no fruit, in consequence of the late frost; but now all are very agreeably disappointed, as the prospects are very favorable. In short, everything is very forward, and bids fair to bring good times ahead.

Yours, Respectfully,
J. G. PRATT.

DARIEN, Walworth Co., June 6th, 1860.

The prospect for an abundant crop of wheat has never been better at this season of the year. The only fears entertained are that the growth of straw will be so large as to cause it to fall down before ripening.—The breadth of land sown to wheat on Rock and Turtle Prairies is generally conceded to be one-fourth more than last year.

The breadth of land planted to broom corn in this section and on Rock Prairie is much larger than last year. Corn and oats look well, though but little of these last two crops is raised for export in this section.

The average crop of wheat in this county is about 1,500,000 bushels. Very little of last year's wheat is left in first hands.

Yours truly,
T. P. ELPS.

LAPORTE, Ind., June 2d, 1860.

The prospect for a large crop of wheat in this county was very good, until three or four weeks ago, when the fly commenced working in the fields, and has so injured them that we won't get over half a crop. A great many fields will not be worth the harvesting.

The prospect for oats was never better. Corn also looks very promising. There is also a fair prospect for all kinds of fruit, except peaches, of which we will have none. With a good season from this out, we hope to have plenty of everything, with those exceptions, and as it has been several years since there has been a failure in any kind of a crop in our county, we are perhaps better able to lose our wheat crops than any other sections of the country where they have had a succession of failures.

Yours, &c.,
H. & B.

ALBANY, Green Co., Wis., June 6, 1860.

The wheat crop for twenty-two years never looked more promising than it does now, and it is about two weeks nearer maturity than usual at this date. The last heavy rain we trust has destroyed the insect.

Corn also is very forward, and "colors" finely, (as they say of our Meerschaum.) Oats look less promising, but bid fair to be average.

Truly yours,
J. H. WARNER & BROS.

GREENWOOD, McHenry Co., Ill., June 5th, '60.

The crops in this section of the county never looked better or more promising than at present. The amount of wheat sown far exceeds that of any previous year, and the growth is already very heavy, so much so that great quantities have commenced lodging.

Corn is unusually forward, and in fact all kinds of vegetation never looked better and more flattering for a bountiful harvest. Fruit is not so plenty as we have had in previous seasons.

Yours, &c.,
N. H. GARRISON & SON,

MACON, Knox Co., Ill., June 4th, 1860.

The want of rain in this county, from February to the middle of May, has greatly diminished what would probably have been our crops of grass, oats and wheat. We have had some fine showers recently, which will help out hay some, but oats are past relief, and will not make over half a crop. Wheat is thin and may be good, but cannot be heavy; it is just beginning to head out. Corn is looking remarkably well, and as this is our chief reliance, we feel cheerful as to the general prospect.

Yours, &c.,
E. Z.

LEWISTON, Fulton Co., Ill., June 1st, '60.

The weather has been very dry here for two or three months, and in many places wheat, oats, and grass will be light. Some localities have been favored with showers, and where this is the case, all crops look well, except winter wheat, which will be light in all this region.

Corn looks well everywhere. A great deal has been planted, and the prospect for a large crop was never better than now. Fruit was badly injured by frost on the last of April, and the crops will be light.

WM. H. GRAHAM.

HARVARD, McHenry Co., Ill., June 4th, 1860.

It is the unanimous report from all parts of this county that wheat never looked more promising for an abundant harvest than at present. Oats and corn are looking finely, with a few exceptions, of late sowed oats. All the complaint now heard from farmers is, that wheat and oats are growing too rank. More than a usual breadth was sown last spring, and the ground was in fine order.
